XMAS FORMAL PLANNED

C.C. BULLETINS

Because of the present condition of the Quonset hut, it will be closed next week Nov. 17 - 21 for remodeling. Work will begin Monday. Everybody interested, drop in.

A contest is being held to secure a theme for the Xmas formal, Dec. 17. The prize for the chosen theme will be two tickets to the formal. Submit your themes early by placing them in the suggestion box in the library. Deadline is Nov. 28. Theme will be chosen then by the Xmas Formal Committee.

COLLEGE COUNCIL

The new C.C. met for the first time last Thursday, Nov. 6. Mr. Rajkovech, who is serving as the chairman of the Faculty Athletic Committee, presented the athletic budget.

Three committee heads were selected to take care of future social activities, the Quonset hut, and activity fee. There is some indication of work being done on the Christmas Formal.

Joe Mariage is serving the first month as chairman of the Council while Betty Fahler has been elected Secretary-Treasurer. A balance of $56.85 is now in the Council Fund.

The regular meetings are to be scheduled from 12:30 to 2 P.M. each Thursday afternoon. Any student or faculty member who would like to attend these meetings is welcome.

HALLADAY GENERAL CHAIRMAN

Tentative plans for the annual NMC Christmas Prom were announced today by General Chairman Elsie Halladay.

December 17 is the date set for the dance. The 17th is on a Wednesday, two days before the end of the fall term.

The location of the Prom has not been decided yet. Two places, Gilbert Lodge and The Cherry Pit in the Park Place Hotel, are being considered.

Subjects are being considered for the theme of the decorations says Kathie Greilick, chairman of the Decorating Committee.

Band chairman Dee Tousley believes that the Central Highschool Dance Band will play at the Prom.

Although it has not been definitely decided, the event will probably be semi-formal. Admission has been tentatively set $2.00 per couple.

Diane Akers is chairman of the Programs and Tickets Committee. Zeke Dumbrille and Mr. Holland are also helping to plan this event.

The matter is being brought up in Council today, and the committee expects to have most of the tentative plans confirmed at this meeting.

The spring of 1953 may see a film based on the life of the late bandleader Glenn Miller, that is if negotiations currently being conducted by the Miller estate and Universal International Pictures work out to the satisfaction of both concerns. No one has yet been chosen to portray Glenn Miller. Talk has it that Jimmy Stewart expressed interest in playing Glenn. Another name mentioned around Hollywood for the job is Dan Dailey.

The sound track of the film will consist of Miller recordings. You'll hear "Little Brown Jug," "In the Mood" and several favorites when this picture is finally released.

RCA Victor has announced plans to establish a new record line. For the first time in the history of the company the world famous Bluebird label will be employed in the merchandising of classical recordings. These new low cost classical discs will be on sale November 10.

Works such as Brahms "First," the Franck "D Minor Symphony," "Scheherazade," The Tchaikovsky "Patnitque," "Swan Lake," "The Nutcracker Suite" and Prokofieffs "Peter and the Wolf" are among the compositions contained in the first Bluebird releases.

Latest popular releases at the top: The Bell Sister... "If'n" and on the flip "There's a ship Co in' In." A close runner-up is Dinah Shore singing "The Blues in Advance." On the other side she recorded "Bella Musica," which is nothing to get excited about.

Miss Pauline Bayer, NTC business instructor, has always lived in this area with the exception of the years spent at school and teaching in the southern part of the state. She was born in Benzie county and still considers it her home.

She began college at Michigan Normal graduated from Central Michigan, received her B.A. degree at the University of Michigan and has attended summer sessions at Michigan State.

Miss Bayer is an amateur camera fan and enjoys traveling in her spare time, which isn't too abundant because of her crowded schedule. On trips she has had several "interesting" experiences and mishaps. Last summer while riding down Pike's Peak in a Cog Train Miss Bayer encountered Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy. Miss Bayer didn't say whether Charlie or Edgar spoke first. Before long, however, they had struck up a casual acquaintance and were promised an appearance on television. She's still waiting. Another time some officials tried to keep her in Philadelphia because her ticket was printed wrong. One time she was lost in New York at midnight. Again she managed to get on a bus going the wrong way in Chicago at night when all the streetcars had stopped running. A duty that she enjoyed very much while teaching in high school was to chaperone senior trips.

The national election results were a source of great delight to Miss Bayer, although she lost a bet to Mr. Rajkovich. She claimed that 85% of the population would vote, while Mr. Rajkovich said not more than 65%. The final tally was 61%. Miss Bayer was proud of Michigan because a large majority of the registered voters in the state turned out to cast their ballots. She says this election is an indication that the people of America vote as they please despite the pressure and predictions of various groups.

BASKETBALL BUDGET INTRODUCED

A basket ball budget was submitted to the college council by the Faculty Athletic Committee and approved. The budget, which covers transportation, meals, and equipment for the team during the coming basketball season has yet to be approved by the Board of Education before it becomes official.

CAMPUS ATTIRE

Clothing fashions have copped the spotlight from politics as a discussion topic. On MMC campus the general trend in styles seems to be comfort for Betty Co-ed.

This year's fashions express causalness and ease in skirts and blouses of every style and color. These skirts range from circular skirts to pencil skirts, plaid, plain, prints or solid colors. Materials are of wide selection from denim to wool crepe. Interests and tastes in styles change from sporty to casual to strictly tailored. Most of the girls adhere closely to skirts that are not only easy on the eyes but easy to wear.

The blouses come with sleeves long, short, three-quarters, bat-wing, or no sleeves at all. They have frills, fuffles, lace and are of materials from nylon to jersey.

Wednesday, Betty Suman was sporting a pink blouse with bat-wing sleeves a stand-up collar and matching pink buttons. Her skirt was dark green.

A bright red blouse and gathered skirt noticed on the campus Thursday morning were worn by the fashionable Gwynne Bourdo.

Helen Harrigan was attired in a white Ship n' Shore blouse and tan straight skirt with large stylish pockets. Most of the girls have taken to this casual dress, however, suits and tailored dresses are not uncommon.

A few College Fanes, having gone overboard with the idea of ease and comfort are wearing slacks and blue jeans. In recent years many of the "Little Miss Wrong Number."

Joy Kyser, Sophomore from Maple City is known to many friends as "Little Miss Wrong Number." She is 19 years old, has brown hair, blue eyes, and is 5'7" tall.

Joy offers only one explanation for her nickname. She works for the Bell Telephone Company in her spare time.

Her main interest is sports. Swimming, skating, horseback riding and tennis take the spotlight as far as she is concerned. Recently, she bought a horse, which she says, through no fault of her own, is called Silver. After spending a term in the tennis class last year she gave it up as a bad job and concentrated her efforts on swimming and skating.

In Traverse City Central Highschool, Joy took an active part in the Pep Club, choir, bowling team and other extra curricular activities. She graduated in 1951.

Joy is interested in working with people. She is not quite sure how she will go about it. She has considered nursing, social work, etc., and says, "I'll probably wind up an elementary teacher."

After completing two years at MMC, Joy hopes to attend either Michigan State or Western Michigan in Kalamazoo.

Presently, she is taking second year Spanish, Social Science, Psychology, Poetry and Choir.

Elle ibility-- doctor's prescription written with a post office pen in the rumble seat of a beat-up automobile.

Jump--The last word in airplanes.

Large colleges and universities outlawed this practice by student demand. Many feel that the blue-jean trend at MMC is on the way out.
