COLLEGE SUPPORTS DRIVE

Plans made for the faculty and student aid in the College Building Fund Drive were materializing this week as student donations and bake sale proceeds were tallied.

Complete faculty contributions have not as yet been announced. No complete count will be made until the drive ends next week.

Word from the Office stated that present results are very "encouraging."

Bake Sale Succeeds

"The Bake Sale was a terrific success," reported co-chairman Janet Earl.

To help promote the Fund Drive, students and faculty members of NMC joined to make the sale a reality by baking cookies, pies, and cakes of all descriptions. Fudge and bread were also made. These two items sold out immediately upon delivery. Marilyn Carder's cake brought the highest price paid for any single item. It was purchased by Leona Houdek.

Janet Earl, Ruth Morris, Judy Shumsky, Carol Case, Betty Larson, and Joanne Roman sold the baked goods at the Gamble Store.

Early Monday morning co-chairmen Bette Suman and Janet Earl, and Betty Larson turned in the sale proceeds, $59.25.

The money was dropped in the Fund jar containing individual donations from students and faculty members.

Sleigh Ride, Dance on Campus Tonight

The French Club sponsored sleigh ride, tonight, is open to all college citizens and their guests.

The group plans to meet at the college at 6:15 pm. and travel in cars to the starting point at Grawn, south of Traverse City.

Afterwards, the aggregation is scheduled to return to NMC campus for refreshments and dancing.

Admission is 50¢ per person.

"The sale of basketball booster tickets has been extremely disheartening," stated Nick Rajkovich, faculty supervisor of athletics.

The facts speak for themselves. There are 300 tickets on hand and $200 from the sale of tickets. There are 500 tickets outstanding. A check revealed 4 students sold 50% of the tickets!

When the tickets were issued, it was calculated 700 tickets should be sold to make the basketball program come out in the black. 200 is a far cry from 700 with half the home games already played.

Here's a rundown on the cost of basketball so far. It costs the college about $35 per game. This includes $20 for officials, $5 for a scorekeeper, and $10 for the ad in the local paper. The first home game we collected, after taxes $31.63, the second game $13.67 and the third game $10.02. The away game at the Soo cost $105 plus transportation expense.

BULLETIN

Cedric Foster, noted news commentator visited NMC Thursday, following a national broadcast from the local Mutual WTCM. Les Biederman, introduced Mr. Foster to the college group. One of Mr. Foster's speeches will appear, verbatim, in the next edition of the Reporter.

Let's Boost The Sports Program

"The sports program is very much in the red. As the end of the season draws near, student support is needed for the team that represented you on the basketball courts through-out Mich.

If you can't make the games you can at least help in this way-----

CAMPUS PROFILE

DAVE VERMETTEN

Twenty-one year old David Vermetten stands 5' 10", has brown eyes, and curly dark brown hair.

Although he hails from Detroit and Southeastern high school, he was born in Canada. His parents moved from Toronto, Ontario, when he was 10, and he immediately became a naturalized citizen.

In sports, Dave takes an active interest in swimming, tennis, and baseball. While in highschool, he was a member of the conference swim team and is taking tennis as a night course here at MMC.

Dave lists art as his vocation and avocation. His goal is commercial art and illustrating children's stories. However, he is not completely new at the art game. His work has been displayed at the Detroit Institute of Art under the sponsorship of Wayne University. EDITORIAL

DON'T STOP NOW!

Recently the student body here at MMC gave a perfect example of co-operation. A bake sale was sponsored to aid in the college fund drive. It was a success because of the 'up-and-at-um' attitude of the students.

The result of this action is three-fold. First, it aided in reaching the $150,000 goal set for Northwestern Michigan College. Over $60 was made on this bake sale. This sum shows what school spirit can do when put to the test. Second, it shows that the students are interested in helping the people in the five county area with the Fund Drive, also that the students appreciate this drive, and public interest in the college. It gives the people some idea of what type of college MC can be in the future and what type of college it is now. Third, it provides self satisfaction. Each and every student, who participated in the sale, should feel that he has helped in building MMC, and in making it the Community College of the future.

Unplanned by the administration, administration, the bake sale was the result of hard work by Janet Earl and Bette Suman. These girls took their idea to the students and were greeted with enthusiasm.

This school spirit should not stop with this one project. Whenever MMC is mentioned, this spirit should be a main topic for discussion. It can become a mark of the school. The basketball team,

DELEGATION RETURNS FROM UNESCO MEET
CONFERENCE AT MSC, LANSING
PRIESTLY GAVE MAIN ADDRESS

DR. Priestly, in his address before the Lansing conference of UNESCO, expressed his views on international cooperation, recently, to delegations from several Michigan colleges. The local delegation, Alex Galligan, Carol Poynor, Bob Palmer, Dave Vermetten and Jeanne Underhill returned with reading material and a plan for foreign relations group at NMC.

The main feature of the program was Dr. Priestly's address in which he cited the likeness of all peoples and that their outward differences are merely variations in culture. Quoting the famous historian Arnold J. Toynbee, Priestly said, "The world will never be destroyed by murder but rather by suicide."

Icy weather conditions forced the local delegation to depart for Traverse before the program was complete. Said Carol Poynor, "I came away from the meet with the feeling that I'd like to see a foreign relations group started at NMC." The other members of the group shared similar views.

"FOREIGN MOVIE" GROUP
PRESENTS "THE RIVER"

"The River" an English movie filmed in India will be shown at the State Theater next Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, January 28-30.

This film is being brought to Traverse City through the French Club, although the club will receive no profit from it. This service is offered by the Club because its members feel that seeing these films, which would not ordinarily be shown here, is worthwhile to NMC students.

If the first film is well received, others will be shown one a month until June. The film tentatively planned for February is "Rashomon," a Japanese film.
