C.C. FAVORS YEAR-BOOK

SPANISH CLUB'S ANNIVERSARY DINNER-MEET

A Spanish club dinner-meeting climaxed the month-old club's anniversary party, Thursday night, at the Washington residence of Betty Fahler and Joy Kyser.

The program featured the presentation of two new members to the group, Gene Bisson and Alex Galligan.

Pres. Joe Mariage gave the regular address stressing the advantages of knowing Spanish in language and culture. He then introduced the pair.

Cathy Grielick gave the secretary-treasurers report followed by a commendation to Joy Kyser, club VP, for the fine program.

Following a "chatter" session the group closed their meeting with a rising "Hasta la Vista", meaning "Until we meet again".

CAC MEETS TO DISCUSS PLANS

Ticket Sales Boosted

The Athletic Committee, composed of administrators, met yesterday to discuss current problems regarding ticket sales and admission rates.

A drive was planned beginning yesterday to "get out the boosters" and speed up ticket sale.

"The results are encouraging," said one rooter, as this paper goes to press, "but we expect even better turnover before the week end.

Administrator Dr. Loomis and faculty members Nick Rajkovich and Walter Beardslee and students: Chuck Mellberg, George Comden, Pete Creech, Dick Taylor, Chuck Kibby, Joe Mariage, Jack Tille, Gordie LaGuire, and Bernie Cook comprised the group.

"All other proposals are tentative to date and will be announced when definite," stated Nick Rajkovich.

CAROL POYNOR APPROVED FOR EDITORS POST

The CC gave unanimous approval, yesterday, to the elective appointment of Carol Poynor for year-book editor "on grounds of her previous experience and abilities in that field."

The announcement came from CC sources after the regular Thursday meeting when the Council decided definitely that a year-book is in demand. The latter decision was a result of a public opinion poll and a special meeting of the year-book staff.

January CC chairman, Gene Bisson, cross questioned the report, apparently making sure that the automatic $150 appropriation was not going to be mishandled by a fly-by-night organization.

As evidenced by the unanimous vote, the Council was convinced that the student funds were placed in "good hands"

The year-book scheduled for circulation this spring will be the first publication of its kind at NMC.

CONGRATULATIONS, FINE JOB
OF SUPPORTING PUBLICITY

Pete Creech, Dean John, Marilyn Carder, Ed. Schmidt, Dick Taylor, Chuck Mellberg, Kevin France, Carol Daane, Carole Case, Marge Mattingly and Mrs. Robert Bursian.

Ed. Note: Each of these people is to be commended on the outstanding job that has been done.

WHICH ARE YOU?

- Are you an active member, the kind that would be missed
- Or are you just contented that your name is on the list?
- Do you attend the meeting and mingle with the flock,
- Or do you stay at home and criticize and knock?
- Do you take an active part to help the work along,
- Or are you satisfied to be the kind that just belong?
- Do you ever voluntarily, help at the guiding stick
- Or leave the work to just a few and talk about the "Clique?"
- Come to meetings often and help with hand and heart
- Don't be just a member -- but take an active part.
- Think this over member, you know right from wrong,
- Are you an active member, or do you "Just Belong!"

UNORTHODOX DEFINITIONS

- Kiss--The anatomical juxtaposition of two orbicularis oris muscles in a state of contraction.
- Coolness--Created by hot words.
- Radio Set--Will never take the place of the newspaper because you can't swat flies with it.
- Politics--The most promising of all careers.

MEET YOUR FACULTY

The math instructor, Miss Core, can be best distinguished by her friendly smile and attitude as she helps her fumbling students through the maze of mathematics.

Miss Core is a native of Traverse City. She was born here, graduated at Central High School. Her college education began at Michigan State Normal, continued at Michigan State and the University of Colorado. She returned to this locale to begin teaching at Peshawbatown. Later she taught at Leslie, near Jackson, and then Michigan State. She began teaching at Northwestern because she always liked this area but there was never an opening in her profession. It was like coming home to her.

For a hobby, Miss Core does all sorts of needlework including making rugs and needlepoint. For the sake of anyone interested in learning, she says that needlepoint isn't difficult.

Though she says she hasn't traveled much, she lists such interesting places as Yellowstone National Park and Washington as spots that she has visited.

Miss Core says she has been renewing old acquaintances since her return to this area. She would also like to see the college get into their own buildings and approved very much the Bake Sale put on by the girls.

"I would like to see interest among the students in other things besides parties," She says. "For example, lectures or concerts would be a big step to aid the people in many ways."

CIRCLE FRAN, CAIS NOUVELLE (TRANS: FRENCH CLUB NEWS)

The French club audienced "The River" Wednesday night, afterwards trouping to Janet Earl's for a snack.

The club is taking charge of concessions at the game Saturday night.

The French club, going Italian, will sponsor a spaghetti supper Wednesday, Feb. 18. Tickets are available from any club member at a dollar per person. The club promises to satisfy the most demanding appetite.

THE FOLLOWING IS THE VERBATUM SPEECH OF CEDRIC FOSTER OVER WTCM TO OVER 500 STATIONS THROUGHOUT THE UNITED STATES.

...And speaking of education here in this lake community in northern Michigan an amazing bit of work has been performed. In the year 1951 the citizens of Traverse City, Michigan decided that they wanted to establish a college and the reasons for the building of that college were sufficiently impelling for the people of Traverse City to carry it through. Under the leadership of Les Biederman, and Dr. Glenn Loomis who is superintendent of schools here in Traverse City, four hundred individuals gave one hundred dollars a piece in the belief that the forty thousand dollar total would be enough to get the project under way. It did prove to be enough for the time being and almost out of whole cloth...you might say...the college was a living and breathing institution with an initial enrollment of about 72 students.

Traverse City, Michigan is in a similar situation to Hanover, New Hampshire, where I attended college at Dartmouth. Both are about 150 miles from anywhere. To this northern Michigan community, which is located on two arms of Grand Traverse Bay of Lake Michigan, there was a great need for higher educational facilities. The actual distances which students had to travel, and the attendant expense of travel...and also living expenses...were prohibitive to many youngsters who desired to obtain a college education...to boys and girls who thought in terms of state teachers' colleges, the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor and Michigan State at Lansing...far to the south.

At present the enrollment of Northern Michigan College is 150 students and of that 150...a total of 135 would not have gone to college had the facilities not been offered them in Traverse City. There is a faculty of fifteen...associate degrees are given by the college, which right now is limited to a two year course...and Northern Michigan College is recognized by the University of Michigan by Michigan State and by the teachers colleges, as well as the Michigan State Department of Instruction...that is the state education department. Right now Northern Michigan is conducting a campaign to raise 150 thousand dollars for a building program.

One of the interesting bits of background of Northern Michigan College was the desire of the people here in Traverse City to educate the youth of the community in a training program which would enable them to remain in this section of the state of Michigan and play their parts in the life of communities here in the north. The present curriculum of Northern Michigan College places emphasis in the first year on liberal arts...the humanities and in the second year the student makes a decision as to whether he will continue with a general college education or whether he will go into what might be termed the vocational field. The college also has a conservation program which is of vital import in this section of the country.

Thus we see today that a community can, if it has the determination to carry through, establish educational facilities for its youth. Those who attend Northern Michigan College will learn in the first two years whether they are college material and at the end of that time...during which they have been encouraged to find employment and to save money for future education...they can move on, with full credit for the work they have done here...to other colleges and universities.

This once again gives me the opportunity to stress the importance of the small, liberal arts college, such as this newly founded institution, Northern Michigan College. This broadcast has stated many times in the past and it restates it again today that the small, liberal arts college is the backbone of the American educational system. It has always been in the halls of that college that leadership of greatness has been born. There, more than any other place, are nurtured the traditions of this republic. There, more than in any other place are the principles of the Founding Fathers of this republic taught to the youth of the nation. There, more than in any other place is our Greco-Roman...Judee...Christian heritage preserved. It is upon this heritage...the philosophies of the Greeks, the Romans, the Jews and the Christians...that western civilization was founded and upon which it still rests today.

NEEDLE NOISE

Here's a few new records that have sky rocketed to success along with their artists.

Art Lowry leads one of the new bands now getting a big push by Columbia records. Lowry is a piano artist. His disc is "Top Darlin'!"

Pearl Bailey recently married Louis Bellson, outstanding jazz drummer, in a London ceremony. His Bailey's Coral disc of "Two to Tango" was a '52 hit.

Stan Freberg, Capitol's record satirist goes tape wild on "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise" a burlesque of multiple recording. Les Paul helped Freberg produce the effects.

Helen O'Connell duets with another femme vocalist for the first time in her career. She joins Gisele MacKenzie on Capitol's "Water Can't Quench the Fire of Love."

To top off the list, there's Doris Day's "Mr. Tap Toe" and a new comer to the entertainment business, Larry Hooper singing "O Happy Day!"

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

What new clubs or organizations would you like to see at UIC?

Francis Hanniford-None, until we have enough support.

Dee Tousley-A Pep Club.

Kathie Grielek-A dramatics club.

Dean John-Let's support the one we have.

Jim Wilcox-A Science Club.

Ruth Kiessel- I would like some club that you don't have to be especially talented to belong to.

Ray Silva- An Athletic club-Strictly no girls!, a Bachlers Club, a baseball club for this spring.

Lit Corner
by bob palmer

Limericks are one phase of poetry (I used the term advisedly) with which every one is familiar. The following samples are offered without comment, and I do not guarantee the originality of all of them.

There was a young maiden- a Sioux
As luscious as any home brioux;
She would display her cute knees
As she strolled past tepees,
And the braves would holler
"Sioux, Wioux!"

There once was a student named Willy
Who thought all mid-terms were silly.
Instead of knuckling down,
He went out on the town-
Poor Willy's final grade was a dilly.

There was a young lady named Carole
Who loved to play cards for apparele.
Her partner's straight flush
Made the young lady blush,
And Carol walked home in a barrele.

The Lords of Peru were the Incas
They were widely reknowned as bi drineas
They worshipped the sun
And had lots of fun,
But the peasants all thought they were Stincas.
